

Women, Land, & Legacy Farm Crawl Sunday, Sept. 27th Noon—4 p.m.

Tour any or all of the stops at your pace and interest.

Visit www.jcswcd.org for information, including a map of the locations. Maps will also be available at each stop.

This event is free and open to the public, with door prizes!

Join us after the event for networking and eating at Big Grove Brewery in Solon from 4:30-8:30!

This event is supported by the Natural Resources Conservation Service, Farm Service Agency, and the Johnson Co. Soil and Water Conservation District. USDA is an equal opportunity provider.

Location:
2894 Hwy. 1 NE I.C.

LINDSEY BOERJAN is a 5th generation farmer on her family's century farm. She farms alongside her aunt, uncle, husband and daughter who run a beef cow & calf operation as well as raising chickens. In 2015 Lindsey started a CSA with nine families who receive produce, eggs and meat over 20 weeks. Stop by during the Farm Crawl and paint bird house gourds for a small fee, feed the chickens and cows and check out repurposed raised beds in the garden. There might just be a kolache to have!

ROSE ROELF is a Project Manager at ACT and beginning farmer. She grew up on the farm that she and her husband recently purchased from her mother. They are in the first year of an organic transition on the 45 acre farm and the 120 acre farm owned by a partnership of her siblings. On the Farm Crawl, Rose will showcase her farm and garden.

Location: Rapid Creek Trail NE I.C.
(look for the sign!)

Location: 4939 Dingleberry Rd. I.C.

LORI HAHN began rescuing horses at the age of 13. She has since taken in more than 30 horses to offer them a safe retirement home. There are currently 20 equines living at her farm, ranging from a miniature mule to a pair of Belgian draft horses. Visit the farm during the Farm Crawl and meet some of these happy retired and rescued animals!

A great love for Iowa, the outdoors, and fresh, local foods brought IOWA GROWN MARKET into establishment in 2014. Partners Bethany Fischer and Vince Waters saw an opportunity to provide local food to local consumers in a conventional yet lost practice—through a small farm stand 10 miles from their gardens. Visit Bethany at Iowa Grown Market farm stand during the Farm Crawl for a variety of fresh produce, canned goods, crafts, and other treats!

Location: 2613 Newport Rd. Solon

Women, Land & Legacy brings together Iowa women to listen and become empowered for involvement on their landscape and in their communities.